

March 25, 2021

This year we have seen a decline in the number of applications received for the many scholarship opportunities available through the Central Texas College Foundation for academic year 2021-2022.

Central Texas College is a public, open-admission community college offering associate degrees and certificate programs in academic, professional and vocational/technical fields. We also help students transition from a two-year to a four-year degree through our many articulation agreements with four-year institutions nationwide.

We have many donors who have graciously provided approximately 170 scholarship opportunities to our local students; therefore, the deadline has been extended to give students and their parents more time to apply. The application portal is currently open and will remain open until midnight on April 7, 2021. Applications will be reviewed and awarded by May 1, 2021. Notifications will be sent to students via email. For more information, please click on the links below.
