

Out of concern for students, families and school districts impacted by COVID-19, Texas A&M University has extended our freshman admission and scholarship application deadlines to December 15 and our additional documents deadline to December 21. We understand that these are unprecedented times and many of your students are uncertain as to what their futures hold. Choosing a college is a major decision and we hope this extra time allows your students to be confident in their next steps.

Thanks and Gig 'em!
